Dear Citizens of Chesapeake:

Enclosed please find the approved operating budget for the 2004-2005 school year for Chesapeake Public Schools. The total of this budget is $319,442,144, which represents an increase of $31,690,856 or 11.01% more than the budget for the 2003-2004 school year. Of the increase, $22,931,490 is projected from the state and $8,129,366 will be provided from the general fund of the city. The balance of the increased funding is attributable to federal impact aid ($400,000) and other local receipts ($230,000).

While revenue from all sources (federal, state, and local) is anticipated to increase next year, a significant portion of the increase will be consumed by a Virginia Retirement System (VRS) rate increase, higher insurance premiums, textbook adoptions, replacement buses, the triennial school census, and higher special education costs. Once again, growth in student enrollment will impact the budget next year as we anticipate an increase of 525 students. As such, 2004-2005 will be the twenty-second consecutive year that our overall student population has increased. As expected, providing the necessary staff, equipment, and supplies to educate the additional students will also consume a significant portion of the anticipated additional resources.

To balance the spending plan, reductions in current services and transfers to other spending sources were necessary. The reductions include 8 academic resource positions in the middle schools and the transfers to other spending sources include the use of Lottery proceeds ($500,000) to purchase classroom computers and the use of additional state and federal funding during the 2003-2004 fiscal year to purchase new copiers for the middle and high schools and several support facilities.

The future of our school division is guided by the seven strategic goals. The goals adopted by the School Board are as follows: ensure rigorous educational standards, ensure school safety, broaden community involvement, provide effective staff training, optimize the use of technology, evaluate the effectiveness and efficiency of what we do, and provide optimal school facilities. These goals provided the framework for formulating the 2004-2005 spending plan. A brief summary of the approved budget follows.

In accordance with the strategic goal of ensuring rigorous educational standards, this budget continues funding for the algebra readiness program, materials to support the Standards of Learning (SOLs), benchmark tests in mathematics and English, and the purchase of new textbooks. Additionally, increased funding has been included for continued implementation of the International Baccalaureate program and the AVID program. Three full positions were added for the IB Program and a partial position was included for the AVID program at Indian River High School. This budget also contains two positions to reduce class size at the third grade level in our elementary schools and an additional gifted specialist.

Another of our strategic goals is to provide optimal school facilities. In that regard, this spending plan increases the funding allotted for custodial supplies and building maintenance. To house our growing student population, the lease purchase of 56 portable classrooms from Lottery proceeds is included. To further assist with capital costs, this budget continues to transfer a portion of the Lottery and the school construction funding to the construction fund to assist with capital needs. Finally, this budget includes funding for lighted tennis courts at three of our high schools.

In recognition of the importance of technology in our modern society, this budget continues support for computer training, school division web page development, and continued support for an automated system to secure substitute teachers. Also in the area of support, an additional systems engineer is included. In the classroom, funding to maintain the current five-to-one student to computer ratio in our elementary schools is included.

In the area of effective staff training, funds have been included to provide training for technology, benchmark testing, new textbook adoptions, security monitors, special education interpreters, and the SOL training initiative that until recently was funded from a state grant. We will also continue to utilize our own staff members to conduct staff development training through the Instructional Institute.

Finally, this budget continues our program evaluation effort and school improvement planning. These efforts will improve efficiency and effectiveness and broaden community involvement in our schools as we continue systematically to evaluate our programs and to implement the strategic planning process.

While the preceding discussion provides a brief overview of the budget as it relates to the strategic goals of the school division, it is the human factor that will bring us closer to making our vision for the future a full reality. In recognition of this, three years ago we established a goal of reaching the national average for teacher salaries with comparable increases for other school personnel by the end of the 2004-2005 school year. While this goal is essential, the anticipated funding will not permit us to meet this original timeframe. Nevertheless, attracting and retaining the best professional and support staff is critical to the instructional tasks before us. Therefore, this budget contains funding to provide a 5% salary increase for all employees and implementation of the third and final year of our salary study. Funds are also included to increase the employer's share of higher medical insurance premiums, and to conduct a new salary study. Together these actions will assist us in both retaining and attracting the quality men and women who contribute so much to educating the children of our great city.

The alignment of a comprehensive and responsible spending plan with the strategic goals of our school division results from many hours of work and much deliberation. Again this year, the process called for many difficult choices. This budget meets the challenges we face in the continued growth of our city and maintains the high standards that have made our schools successful in the past. The budget process is evidence of our efforts to work together to educate all of the children of all of the citizens of Chesapeake. The consistent support of the City Council and the citizens of Chesapeake has made these efforts successful, and we are grateful for the important role you play.

Sincerely,
